

Day Hikes

For Your Safety

- BE BEAR AWARE! Avoid surprising bears by making noise—call out and clap your hands. Bear bells are not sufficient. The use of personal audio devices is strongly discouraged.
- Carry bear spray and know how to use it. Guard against accidental discharge.
- Proper food storage is required. Ask a ranger for more information.
- Carry drinking water.
- Be prepared for rapid weather changes; bring rain gear and extra clothing. Avoid wearing cotton.
- High elevation may cause breathing difficulties; pace yourself.
- Snow melts gradually, leaving valley trails by mid-June, canyon trails by late July. Be careful crossing snowfields and streams.
- Tell someone where you are going and when you expect to return.
- Solo hiking, off-trail hiking and trail running are not recommended.
- Check with a ranger for up-to-date information on trail conditions and closures.

Backcountry Regulations

- Respect wildlife. Do not approach or feed animals. Observe them from a safe distance—100 yards from bears and wolves, and 25 yards from all other wildlife!
- All overnight camping in the backcountry requires a permit.
- Carry out all your garbage.
- Hike on established trails to prevent erosion.
- Horses and other stock have the right-of-way. Step off the trail on the uphill side and wait quietly while stock passes.
- Pets, bicycles and vehicles are not allowed on trails or in the backcountry.
- Backcountry sanitation: To prevent waterway contamination, bury human waste in a hole 6-8 inches deep at least 200 feet from water. Pack out used toilet paper, tampons, sanitary napkins and diapers in sealed plastic bags. Do not bury or burn any materials.

Parking Tips

- During July and August most trailhead parking areas fill early in the day. Be flexible; plan for alternate hikes.
- Start your hike early to minimize parking problems.
- Parking on natural vegetation may result in permanent damage or may start a fire.
- Please obey posted parking regulations.
- The Moose-Wilson Road is closed to vehicles over 23.3 feet long, RVs and trailers, affecting access to the Laurance S. Rockefeller Preserve, Death Canyon and Granite Canyon trailheads.
